REQUESTS

- Provision for medical bills.
- Safety traveling in our home!
- Our support to double in the next 6 months.
- For the visa application process for go smoothly
- Health of our family as we visit churches

PREPARATIONS FOR PNG:

The container with some of our stuff for our new home in Papua New Guinea has arrived in Pangia! We are so blessed to be able to send things ahead of us, and to have the Wells be able to receive it!

We are getting closer to being able to go over, and we are definitely getting antsy! We are praying to be able to leave before Fall. Please pray that we raise our support and start-up funds so we can get to work over there!

SICKNESS:

Over the last few months, we've had to battle different sicknesses. Some weeks we just had colds, and others were more serious. Justin had two infections in his left ear in January, and that resulted in a midnight run to a local ER during one of our traveling days. A few weeks later, before he finished the course of antibiotics, he got an infection in the other ear. It was trying, but thanks for those who've prayed for us! We are all feeling much better now.

SOUL WINNING AND VISITATION:

We were recently able to go on visits with the church where we've been parking during the week between meetings. We were able to talk to one man who had been to church before but wasn't attending anywhere, and we were able to leave tracts with others.

It was such a blessing to be able to go out and share the gospel with lost people in the community. We miss being able to visit our bus kids, so visiting with another church is always a blessing!

THANK YOU:

As always, I must stop to thank our friends and family who support us, pray for us, and read our letters. Please understand that we are where we are today because of your faithfulness to bring us before our LORD!

SCARY WEATHER:

For almost all of our lives, we have been up north in snow country. Where our home church is, there are lake-effect snow storms that happen all the time. We are quite used to waking up and having to shovel a foot or two of snow before we can get out of the driveway to go to work.

Tornados and very strong thunderstorms are not our cup of tea. To make things worse, we are traveling in an RV which makes those strong winds extra special! A few weeks ago, we had to stay in the pastor's house because of the threat of tornados. We were up most of the night watching to see what would happen.

God was good and protected us through the whole thing! There wasn't ANY damage to our RV, despite limbs and other things blowing around! Our God is such a good God, and He watches over his children!

There is a side of me that loved the adventure, but that being said, I will take the snow storms over tornados any day!

The storm did provide an opportunity for us to be a blessing to the Pastor of the church we were at. A bunch of the shingles blew off of the house, and I was able to repair the roof for them! We are always so happy to be able to help out churches, whether its in a church service or during the week.
