PRAYER REQUESTS

- The last steps of our Visa application to be finalized soon
- Bro Gray's back health. Pray for healing and for the pain to be taken away
- Safety as we travel to meetings in the next few months
- Wisdom in selling our vehicles, and in purchasing the rest of the items we need for PNG

Praying friends,

We appreciate all of your prayers for us. I'm so thankful to know that there are brothers and sisters who take time out of your day to read this and pray for us! I know that many of our churches get a daunting amount of prayer letters each month; thank you for loving us and bringing us before our LORD!

Thank you to the churches that have been giving us special offerings towards our start-up fund. It's such a blessing to see God providing in the ways that we need. Thank you for being willing to be used of God to bless our family and our future ministry!

We are still waiting on our visa approval. I know this has been the theme of our last few letters. We are as weary of typing it, as much as I'm sure that you are reading it. We have recently heard from Bro. Gray, and he thinks that our approval is very close. He has mentioned that the immigration office that is handling our paper work has gone through some major changes over the past few months. This has led to our delays. Please pray for Bro Gray, as he has been having back pain. For him to work on our paperwork, he has to travel into the capitol. Please pray that his back would be healed. His health would benefit his ministry as much as ours, of course.

Our final step of our visas involves us sending all of our medical info and the letter we are waiting on currently to the embassy in Washington DC. We have been told that this step usually is very quick and takes a few weeks. We are so close to being able to buy our tickets, and we are feeling the excitement! Please continue to pray that we would receive our letter of approval from PNG so that we can complete our visas and get in country.

Recently, Papua New Guinea had a huge earthquake. There has been some structural damage to the houses on the Missions Station, including the one that we will be living in. It looks like we may hit the ground running with repairs. This, as well as many of the obstacles in PNG, illustrates perfectly the hole that God is having us fill in PNG. Bro Wells has been keeping a lot of irons in the fire over there. Our arrival will immediately relieve him of some of what he has been doing. This will allow that ministry in Pangia to grow. Who knows where God may lead as we follow Him into the jungle! If you are interested in the Wells family, you can always read their prayer letters too! A few weeks ago, we had quite the blessing. We were driving along and Adrienne was talking about the Sunday school lesson that she had just learned. It got her talking about going to Heaven. We were able to launch into explaining the Gospel to her. It is such a joy as a parent to see the Holy Spirit working on our little girl! He is beginning to draw her to Him, and we have the joy of counseling her. Please pray that she understands the concepts of God's simple plan of salvation. She is still 3 for those of you keeping track. We are so excited that she is absorbing the things of God. Thank you to all of you Sunday school teachers who have taught our girls as we've travelled the country. Your work and faithfulness is a blessing to us!
