Hello friends,

Breanna, Justin's sister, is here! She is planning to finish out the term with us before we furlough this November. She recently completed her RN schooling and passed her boards. We have also been using the clinic in it's current state. Thanks for all of the prayers for us as we worked to complete that. It is in a functional state and the finish details will progress through the rest of this year. It is such a blessing to be able to have the clinic off of our front porch and in a dedicated building with power. Pray for Breanna as she learns the language, culture, and how to work in our team with us!

Last month Justin's parents visited. This was a great trip for them and for us. We appreciated their hard work and effort that they put into some of our projects while they were here. We loved being able to see them and let them see where we live and where we work! Many times Mom would comment things like, "We have seen that in a picture but its neat seeing all of it in person." We are thankful that we can share much of what we do with pictures, but taking a trip and going in person will always be an eye opener. We advocate visiting your missionaries on their fields. Your eyes will definitely affect your heart and you will gain a new appreciation for what your missions dollars buy.

We are also hosting a group currently. We have Kayleigh's brother and his wife, and we also have the daughter of one of our supporting pastors. They are along for the ride for whatever we have going on and it has been fun having them here with us!

Please pray for:

- Breanna to learn the language and culture here, and adjust to working in our team
- Missions Conference near Mt Hagen, July 10-12
- Youth Camp coming up soon
- Chad Wells to recover from Dengue fever

Please be in prayer as next week, Justin will be preaching a missions conference for a church near Mt Hagen. We have taught our church to give to missions as well. They struggle, but it is a good struggle as they learn to trust and obey God. We have a great burden for teaching these local churches that they have a responsibility to get the Good News out just like we do. The Gospel shouldn't end in PNG. Pray that there would be clear teaching and Spirit led preaching each night!

We had to postpone camp as the national school schedule has shifted. We plan to have youth camp still, and hopefully soon, but we will be setting that date in a few weeks. Pray for souls to be saved, and for kids to give their lives to be mighty men and women of God!

Pray for Chad Wells, our ministry partner. He was diagnosed with Dengue Fever after two weeks of terrible pain and no medicines working for him. Dengue has no cure and you only can take pain meds and wait it out. Pray for him to have grace, to be healed quickly, and for us to take care of him and to keep everything ministry wise moving forward.

As always, your prayers and love for us are a huge blessing, and they hold us here and encourage us.

Thank you, from the Dye family!
