Beware of little expenses,
a small leak will sink a great ship.

Into the Flames

The townspeople were in total despair. A fire which started in a diner was threatening to burn down the entire shopping district. They seemed helpless to do anything about it. Suddenly, a truck filled with farm workers came speeding down a hill towards the fire. The crowd moved back as the truck drove right into the flames. The farm workers jumped out and beat at the fire with their coats, miraculously bringing it under control.

The city fathers were so grateful for the men's heroism that they gave each a plaque and a $1,000 reward. After the ceremony, a newsman interviewed the truck driver and asked him what he was going to do with the money. Without a moment's hesitation, the man replied, "You can be sure the first thing I'm gonna do is fix the brakes on my truck." ☺

Evangelism is not a professionalized job for a few gifted or trained men and women but is instead, the unrelenting responsibility of every person who belongs, even in the most modest way, to the company of Jesus.

The church collected 69 lbs of change for missions last week! Thank you.

Nursery Director

We thank God for the job Amy Spiller has done in overseeing the Nursery Ministry. We are trying to have a new lady oversee this ministry each year. If you attend all the services and would like to help, see Pastor Kohl soon.

Thank God for Freedom

Thank God for Freedom in our land,
For which the pilgrims sought.
The right to say and use and do
The things that we are taught.

Thank God for Freedom of Religion
So we can listen and obey.
To worship God and Him alone,
To hear His Word and pray.

Thank God for Freedom of Speech,
To stand up for what is right.
To tell other of His free gift,
To be a shining light.

Thank God for Freedom of the Press,
The Sunday Morning News
A good way to advertise,
A blessing we can use.

Thank God for Freedom of Government
This is many a people's quote,
"Thank God that into office
Our rulers we can vote."

Thank God for Freedom in our land,
For which the pilgrims sought,
The right to say and use and do
The things that we are taught.
