"We must not sit down and look for miracles, be up and doing."

John Elliot (1604-1690)

Brother Eliot ministered to Native Americans in New England, starting 14 works with over 3,600 attending.

How to Interpret Prophecy

The initial work of a prophetic interpreter is to take the prophetic message nonfiguratively. Give the prophets the benefits of the doubt. Accept their words as actual. Then, determine if the message might be symbolic or typological. Symbols and types are graphical representations of actual things. Determine what is the literal meaning behind the representations.

Start of the Scofield Bible

One day in St. Louis, Missouri, a young convert named CI Scofield walked into the office of a friend. He found him with a new copy of the Scriptures on his desk and a pencil in his hand. "Why, man, you're spoiling that beautiful Bible!" exclaimed Scofield

His older friend pointed him to Acts 8, where he had underscored the fifth verse, "Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them." Then he had connected by a line to the eighth verse which reads, "And there was great joy in that city."

Years afterward, Scofield frequently introduced his friend CE Paxson as "the man who first taught me to mark my Bible." The inspiration and instruction that Paxson gave him led to the preparation of the now-famous Scofield Reference Bible with its helpful footnotes and cross-references.

Pastor's Note: Every serious Bible student should eventually own a Scofield Reference Bible. We have a few on sale for $20.

Interesting Fact: Jay Brumbaugh's uncle, Dr. William Pettingill was a consulting editor to the original Scofield Bible!

Victory Verses: Prayerlessness

I Samuel 2:3

"And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint;"

Proverbs 8:13

"Moreover as for me, God forbid that I should sin against the LORD in ceasing to pray for you: but I will teach you the good and the right way:"

Jesus quoted Scripture when the devil tempted Him to sin. He used the Sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God. We should too!
(Matthew 4:1-11; Ephesians 6:17)

An Excerpt from the Christian Gentleman's Handbook

A Christian Gentleman does not wear brown loafers to a funeral or wedding.

He does not wear white shirts stained under the arms.
