Prayer is a trade to be learned. We must be apprentices and serve our time at it. Painstaking care, much thought, practice and labour are required to be a skillful tradesman in praying. Practice in this, as well as in all other trades, makes perfect. EM Bounds

Darwinian evolution was (and still is) inherently a racist philosophy, teaching that different groups or 'races' of people evolved at different times and rates, so some groups are more like their ape-like ancestors than others. The Australian Aborigines, for instance, were considered the missing links between an ape-like ancestor and the rest of mankind. This resulted in terrible prejudices and injustices towards the Australian Aborigines. A leading evolutionary spokesperson, Stephen Jay Gould, stated that 'biological arguments for racism may have been common before 1850, but they increased by orders of magnitude following the acceptance of evolutionary theory.

A Thot for Parents

"Eliminating commercial TV has had a three-fold benefit for us: 1, I am not de-sensitized to evil. Every three or four months I take my car to the Honda dealer in town for maintenance and in the waiting room is a TV turned to CNN. I am shocked a the commercials. If no one else is watching it, I turn it off. 2, Contentment. Because I am not bombarded with commercials for more stuff, I am content with what I have. (A specific of this contentment is that my first car lasted me 19 years.) 3, more hours in my day."

Teacher Tips

The Five B's of Preaching and Teaching:

Be Brief,
Brother,
Be Brief

Gentlemen

by Dr. George Alquist, Jr

When a gentleman recognizes friends at other tables at a restaurant, he is free to greet them by stopping at their table briefly, being careful not to interrupt their dinner or conversation very long.

A gentleman always encourages the ladies at the table to order first.
