One Little Hour

One little hour of watching for the Master,
 Eternal years to walk with Him in white;
 One little hour to bravely meet life's duties,
 Eternal years to reign with him in light.

One little hour for weary toils and trials,
 Eternal years for calm and peaceful rest;
 One little hour for patient self-denials,
 Eternal years of life where life is blest.

A Little More . . .

A little more tired at close of day.
A little less anxious to have our way;
A little less ready to scold and blame,
A little more care of a brother's name,
And so we are nearing the journey's end,
Where time and eternity meet and blend,
A little more love for the friends of youth,
A little less zeal for perceived truth;
A little more charity in our views,
A little less thirst for the daily news;
And so we are folding our tents away,
And passing in silence at close of day.
A little less care for bonds and gold,
A broader view and a saner mind
And so we are faring down the way
That leads to the gates of a better day.

A Thot for Parents

"I believe that commercials are harmful, but more harmful is the general belief system that is perpetrated in movies, like 'Supernatural' - where is God in their lives? 'Big Brother' or reality TV - don't they have anything better to do with their lives? 'Supermodels' - what are they teaching our children, shallowness and superficiality? Having said all that, I must admit that the mindlessness of TV is very attractive and seductive, and it does take willpower to push the 'off' button."

Teacher Tips

Motto:

"I am a teacher in the work of the Lord Jesus Christ. I am involved in the most important task on earth: "The Communication of Divine Truth to others."

Gentlemen

by Dr. George Alquist, Jr

Dinner conversation is to be pleasant, and a gentleman will not try to change the opinions of his dinner companions at the table.

A gentleman never crunches his ice cubes in his mouth.
