I said a prayer for you today
 And know God must have heard.
 I felt the answer in my heart
 Although He spoke no word.
 I didn't ask for wealth or fame
 I knew you wouldn't mind.
 I asked Him to send treasures
 Of a far more lasting kind!

I asked that He'd be near you
 At the start of each new day
 To grant you health and blessings
 And friends to share your way!
 I asked for happiness for you
 In all things great and small,
 But it was for His loving care
 I prayed for most of all.

A visitor at a home for aged poor people stopped to speak to a very old resident and inquire after her health and welfare.

"Thank you, sir," replied the old lady, "Yes, indeed, I have a great deal to be thankful for. I have two teeth left and they are opposite each other!"

"Awful" Husband

It seems that little Billy misunderstood what the preacher said at his uncle's wedding, because later he was overheard reenacting it in play, "Rosemary, do you take this man for your awful wedded husband?"

Singing in a Wheelchair

While walking along a busy street one day, I heard someone singing. His sweet voice was distinguishable even above the noise of the traffic. When I located him, I noticed that he had no legs and was pushing himself through the crowd in a wheelchair.

Catching up with him, I said, "I want you to know, friend, that to hear singing from a person in your condition gives everyone else a lift."

He answered with a grateful smile, "When I stopped thinking about what I had lost and began concentrating on all I had left, I found much for which I could rejoice and be happy."

Gentlemen

by Dr. George Alquist, Jr

A gentleman does not make undue noise with his silverware.

A gentleman does not speak with food in his mouth.

A gentleman does not drink liquids while he has food in his mouth.

Teacher Tips

Part of the inspirational process involves the student's understanding why something is important. The instructor cannot fail to remember that people tend to give time to that which they feel is important. We carve out expenditures of energy on that which we feel is important. We spend our money on that which we think is important. Therefore, we need to inspire the student to grasp the importance of the subject, principle, or truth being taught.

Thots for Parents

Teach your children to memorize and live by the golden rule: "Do unto others and you would have them do unto you." (Based on Matthew 7:12; Luke 6:31)
