Needing a cup of sugar,
I knocked at my neighbor's door;
I meant to stay only a minute,
But lingered an hour or more.

For there on the kitchen table
An open Bible lay,
And she put down her
work and read to me;
Then we bowed down
our heads to pray.

I gave my life to the Savior
As we knelt by her kitchen chair.
How I thank the Lord for a neighbor
Who has more than sugar to share.

Brainerd's One Desire

While David Brainerd, one of the most celebrated of our missionaries, was laboring among the poor, benighted Indians on the banks of the Delaware, he once said, "I care not where I live, or what hardships I go through, so that I can but gain souls to Christ. While I am asleep, I dream of these things; as soon as I awake, the first things I think of is great work. All my desire is the conversion of sinners and all my hope is in God."
