"Sine Cera" Means Without Wax

Are you intrigued by these two words? If you are a Latin student, you know they mean "without wax."

The Romans were known for their beautiful statuary. When they displayed it, they wrote these two words above it.

If a dishonest sculptor chipped his statue, he would fill it with wax to make it look real.

If you really mean what you have written in your letter, you can truthfully close your letter with the word "sincerely."

The King James Bible contrasted with the New International Version

In the KJB thou, thee, thine and thyself always refer to only one person. Ye, you, your, yours and yourselves always refer to more than one person.

This was done on purpose by the 54 translators of the KJB. This was not the language of their day but intentionally was added to help us understand the content. This method of interpretation was eliminated from the NIV. Consider one of hundreds of examples: Exodus 20:3

KJB - Very Specific

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

NIV - Very General

"You shall have no other gods before me."

How Many Stars in the Sky?

In the 17th century, Tycho Brahe, Ptolomy and Kepler tried to count the stars. One came up with 1056, one 777, and the other with 1005.

Now astronomers know that there are over 100 billion stars in our galaxy alone, and probably billions of galaxies similar to ours. Science has proved that man cannot count the stars.

What did God say? "The host of heaven can no man number." Jeremiah 33:22
