I Said A Prayer for You

I said a prayer for you today and know God must have heard.
I felt the answer in my heart although He spoke no word.
I didn't ask for wealth or fame (I knew you wouldn't mind)
I asked Him to send treasures of a far more lasting kind!
I asked that He'd be near you at the start of each new day
To grant you health and blessing and friends to share your way!
I asked for happiness for you in all things great and small,
But it was for His loving care I prayed for most of all!

Excerpts from “Does God Still Guide”

By J. Sidlow Baxter

Part 3 of 5

In the Bible there seem to be four levels of prayer indicated. It is (1) a necessity, (2) a duty, (3) a privilege, (4) a delight. On the first level, prayer is simple but sheerly a necessity. Without it godliness withers and the spiritual life atrophies. What air is to the lungs, or oxygen to bodily health, prayer is to our spiritual development. Even Bible knowledge becomes stale and lifeless apart from prayer, just as even a well-fed body ails and dies without fresh air... Prayerlessness is a spiritual grave.

Prayer is seen as a moral duty. As an expression of worship it is our duty to God. As a means of intercession it is our duty to others. Then there is that third level: prayers as a transcendent privilege. It gives access to the highest of all thrones, through the costliest of all sacrifices, with the readiest of all welcomes. But the highest level is when prayer becomes our dearest delight, opening up to us a heart-to-heart communion with God which is heaven begun below...

Many of us need to bring this to a practical issue in our life. It has been truly said that for most of us the three fold problem is that of getting (1) a quiet place, (2) a quiet time, (3) a quiet mind.

Perhaps, for some, the more disconcerting problem is to fix on a regularly available time. Let us face up to it: for most of us there will be a price to pay (let us be grateful to pay it!). At some point there will be need for self-denial; maybe our having to let go of some weekly pleasure hour, or some nightly diversion, or some careless misuse of time. If we decide to make the first hour of each day our special prayer-time, it may mean going to bed an hour earlier at night, and getting up an hour earlier at morn. John Wesley is a stimulating example of watching the clock at night for the sake of that hour the next morning. Undoubtedly there are reasons why the first hour of the day has unique advantages, but it may not be a workable time in some circumstances. Each must decide according to individual necessities. If it can be early morn, it should be complemented by briefer follow-ups at noon and evening. If it cannot be till evening there should be briefer anticipations at early morn and noon. The vital thing is to fix the time or times and build the habit.
