No Room

One evening the manager of Baltimore's largest hotel refused lodging to a man dressed like a farmer, because he thought this fellow's lowly appearance would discredit his inn. So the man left, and took a room elsewhere. The innkeeper later discovered that he had turned away none other than Thomas Jefferson - the Vice President of the United States!

The manager immediately sent a note to the famed patriot, asking him to return, and be his honored guest. Jefferson replied by instructing his messenger as follows: "Tell him I have already engaged a room. I value his good intentions highly, but if he has no place for a dirty American farmer, he has none for the Vice President."

Luke 2:14, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."
